Message from the Chairs
It is our great honor as chairs of this year’s AAFPRS Annual Fall Meeting to invite you to come to Orlando with your family to learn, to be inspired, and to enjoy the many fun things this city has to offer.

We have planned a program full of learning opportunities covering all aspects of facial plastic and reconstructive surgery in various formats: panels, lectures, workshops, free paper presentations, and instruction courses. To note, we have organized the instruction courses in four different topics that will be running concurrently each afternoon. These topics include aging face and rhinoplasty; non-surgical and office-based; business management and marketing; and reconstructive surgery. This will allow you the flexibility of attending one course at a time in four different topic areas.

The annual Essentials in Facial Plastic Surgery seminar is again being offered to residents and the 4th Annual Microvascular Workshop is scheduled on Sunday to allow AAO-HNSF meeting attendees the opportunity to participate.

We welcome the Organization of Facial Plastic Surgery Assistants (OFPSA) to this meeting as well. They will prepare a three day program on various talks and lectures on practice management, ancillary procedures, and industry trends and standards.

Social activities for the week will include a Welcome Reception in the Exhibit Hall on Thursday. Make sure you come by and interact with the exhibitors and visit with your colleagues. Stop by the AAFPRS Booth to view the newly launched Robert L. Simons Archives and Heritage Center and experience our 50th Anniversary tribute. Also, a celebration of the 20th Anniversary of our FACE TO FACE: The National Domestic Violence Project is planned to be held Friday evening.

Orlando is a favorite destination of many and the weather in September will only make it better. Orlando is also known as "The Theme Park Capital of the World" and its tourist attractions draw more than 51 million tourists a year, including 3.6 million international guests. Orlando is a perfect host city for our meeting; we hope to see you there.

Target Audience
The meeting is offered for continuing medical education of medical students, residents, fellows, and practicing physicians (MDs and DOs) in the field of facial plastic and reconstructive surgery. The program is for physicians with all levels of experience and covers aesthetic, reconstructive, and congenital issues relevant to this specialty.

Accreditation/Credit Designation
The AAFPRS Foundation is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians. The AAFPRS Foundation designates this live activity for a maximum of 25.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™ (plus 5 for the Microvascular Workshop). Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Learning Objectives
The course directors, AAFPRS Foundation, and CME Committee strive to formulate a program that is contemporary, unbiased, and relevant. After attending the plenary sessions, the participant should be able to:
- Recognize the multiple modifications of facelift surgery and apply them appropriately.
- Detail the current approaches, which can be used for periorbital rejuvenation.
- Discuss the concept of a comprehensive approach to midface rejuvenation.
- Identify ideal candidates for fat transfer and explain the techniques involved leading to a successful outcome.
- Detail the tenets related to successfully managing your office staff.
- Describe the principles involved in choosing new technology and applying it to your practice.
- Discuss the principles and techniques for the current use of neurotoxins and fillers.
- Detail the possible pitfalls and complications associated with neurotoxins and fillers.
- Discuss appropriate patient selection with respect to the use of the appropriate lasers, understanding which laser works best for a given skin condition.
- Explain the various treatment algorithms for tip contouring and projection in rhinoplasty surgery.
- Understand the methods available for the reconstruction of large nasal defects.

Noon-1:00pm
Title: "Surviving the Deluge"
We are honored to have Dr. Anna Pou as our guest speaker. She is a very skilled and compassionate "cancer care" surgeon who followed in her father's footsteps by entering the practice of medicine. Like her father, Dr. Fred Pou, an internist for over 40 years in the New Orleans Ninth Ward, (the area most effected by Hurricane Katrina flooding), Dr. Pou is known as a patient oriented doctor, who frequently gives patients her cell phone number. Dr. Pou had returned to New Orleans to practice one year before Hurricane Katrina to rejoin her family and to make a difference in her native State.

Dr. Pou was one of the doctors trapped at Memorial Hospital in New Orleans who volunteered to stay during Hurricane Katrina and, as conditions at the hospital deteriorated, she was forced to deal with "end of life" issues for some acute care patients, while the government, at all levels, abandoned the doctors, patients and the citizens of New Orleans.

Anna M. Pou, MD, is currently a Professor and Program Director in the Department of Otorhinolaryngology at the LSU Health Sciences Center, in New Orleans as well as a member of the Stanely S. Scott Cancer Center. She is a diplomat of the American Board of Otolaryngology, a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons and a member of the American Head and Neck Society and the Society of University Otolaryngologists.

Organization of Facial Plastic Surgery Assistants (OFPSA) Program

Message from the President
Kristi Fritz

I would like to thank everyone that attended the OFPSA meeting in New York City. I would also like to thank ReGina Simo and Lisa Bourassa (our co-chairs) for planning a wonderful meeting. There is a great deal of hard work that goes into planning our meetings, and we appreciate the time they volunteered to benefit the OFPSA and all of our members.

Even though we had a great turn-out in New York, there were still many of you that were unable to attend. Fortunately, the AAFPRS supports our organization, and wanted us all to have another chance to attend a meeting this year. Therefore, we are pleased to announce that we will be having a three-day OFPSA Fall Meeting in Orlando, FL, September 18-21, 2014. We appreciate the opportunity to have a second meeting in 2014 to further educate ourselves, and we owe it all to the AAFPRS, Steve Duffy, Caryl Bryant, and Ann Jenne!

We are trying something new at this meeting! In the morning, we are planning some fun events that will not only allow us to get to know each other better, but also to enjoy focused lectures and round tables. Details of the morning sessions will be forthcoming!

In the afternoon we have been invited to join the AAFPRS’ Business Management/Marketing Workshop. Remember the entire meeting is open to the OFPSA members to pick and choose what would be most beneficial for their offices.

With the support of Care Credit, we are all excited to introduce the OFPSA Member of the Year Award! There will be an e-mail to follow this to explain the details of the award.

We are also holding elections for positions as OFPSA officers. We currently have our vice president position available. We are always looking for committee members to volunteer as well.

This should be a truly fun meeting to attend, so I hope to see you all in Orlando!
ABOUT THE AAFPRS
ITS HISTORY
The American Academy of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery (AAFPRS) was founded in 1964 and represents more than 3,000 facial plastic and reconstructive surgeons throughout the world. The AAFPRS is a National Medical Specialty Society of the American Medical Association (AMA). The AAFPRS holds an official seat in the AMA House of Delegates and on the American College of Surgeons board of governors.

ITS MEMBERS
The majority of AAFPRS members and fellows are certified by the American Board of Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery, which includes examination in facial plastic and reconstructive surgery procedures, and the American Board of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery. Other AAFPRS members are surgeons certified in ophthalmology, plastic surgery, and dermatology.

ABOUT THE AAFPRS FOUNDATION
In 1974, the Educational and Research Foundation for the American Academy of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery (AAFPRS Foundation) was created to address the medical and scientific issues and challenges which confront facial plastic surgeons.

The AAFPRS Foundation established a proactive research program and educational resources for leaders in facial plastic surgery. Through courses, workshops, and other scientific presentations, as well as a highly respected fellowship training program, the AAFPRS Foundation has consistently provided quality educational programs for the dissemination of knowledge and information among facial plastic surgeons.

In the early 1990s, FACE TO FACE humanitarian programs were established so that AAFPRS members could use their skills and share their talent in helping the less fortunate individuals here and abroad.

• FACE TO FACE: International brings AAFPRS members to third world countries where they treat children with facial birth defects and anomalies.
• FACE TO FACE: The National Domestic Violence Project allows AAFPRS members to perform surgeries on survivors of domestic abuse here in the United States, who have received injuries to their faces.
• The newest member to FACE TO FACE is FACES OF HONOR. This program offers free surgical care for soldiers who have been injured in the line of duty.
